As the warm, humid air rises, it cools and condenses, releasing heat (called latent heat). This heat warms the surrounding air, making it lighter and causing it to rise farther.

Storm Chasers ...

When a tornado or hurricane happens, they want to be there to observe and record it. - There are some really good reasons for chasing storms -- mainly, scientific research, though a few people make a living selling photographs or footage of storms. There are also several reasons why amateurs shouldn't go storm chasing, no matter how fun it looks.
